DETAILED ACTION

The amendment received on January 15, 2008 is acknowledged and entered.

Claims 5-8 have been amended. No claims have been added. Claims 1-12 are currently pending.

Response to Amendments and Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed January 15, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that claims 5-8 are statutory, the examiner respectfully disagrees. Claims 5-8, as currently recited, appear to be directed to an apparatus (see preamble), however, the body of the claim appears to be nothing more than software or computer-executable instructions. Without reciting a computer-readable medium having said instructions embodied therein, said claim is considered to be directed to a non-statutory class of invention. The applicant must amend claims to comprise computer-readable medium having said instructions embodied therein or either amend claims to comprise structure., such as, hardware.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

An invention, which is eligible for patenting under 35 U.S.C. 101, is in the "useful arts" when it is a machine, manufacture, process or composition of matter, which produces a concrete, tangible, and useful result.

In regards to claim 5, the claim, as currently recited, appears to be directed to an apparatus (see preamble), however, the body of the claim appears to be nothing more than software or computer-executable instructions. Without reciting a computer-readable medium having said instructions embodied therein, said claim is considered to be directed to a non-statutory class of invention.

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

A) the prior art for example:

(1) Pilu (US PG Pub. 2003/0078863) discloses discount printing.

(2) Iwase et al. (US Patent Number 6,724,492), an image forming apparatus capable of performing trial printing and image performing system.

However, in regard to claims 1-4 and 9-12, the prior art does not teach or suggest specific manner in which the output image generating operation job is performed.

2. The examiner has cited prior art of interest, for example:

1) Zingher (US Patent Number 5,897,260), which discloses a print job allocation system.

2) Yoshinori (JP 2002183531), which disclose mail order sale method for commodity and its device.

Claim 5 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 101, set forth in this Office action.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
